

THE BIG BEGINNING

We are all anxious, even if we are positive.

Let me ask a few questions.

How are you and your family doing right now? The extended family? Your nearby friends and their families? Sure, we are all in this together, but what are the challenges?

How is your financial plan holding up? What is your advisor telling you and what are you telling the advisor? Is your hand being held? Any rebalancing? How secure is the tech they are using?

On a scale of 1 being very ok to 10 absolute panic where are you, where have you been?

What scenarios do you see out there from COVID-19?

This is a big beginning. Chestnut Investment Advisory is facing this like you are. We all are asking the same questions you are asking.

Stay well, be safe and take good care. We are here to hold your hand and hold it together the best we can under the COVID-19 circumstances.
